Flood Claims Election in Answer

Joel W. Flood recently declared the Democratic nominee for the office of Commonwealth's attorney of Appomattox county, had gone with the clerk of the court his reply to the allegations made last week by S. W. Sears and others through their attorney, while contesting the election of Mr. Flood, claiming that A. H. Clement should have been declared the nominee.

Mr. Flood, through his attorney denies each of the charges made by the contestants and asserts that the contest was instigated by a few disgruntled Democrats who have never given consistent support to the Democratic party, and by a local hybrid party, which called itself the 'citizens' party,' made up of some disgruntled Democrats and the solid Republican party of the county," The end sought by this unholy combination," says Mr. Flood, is the disruption of the Democratic party of Appomattox county."

A reply similar in purport has been filed by R. F. Burke, whose election as county treasurer is being contested in the Circuit court under the same general charges as those made against Mr. Flood.

Denying that certain persons named in the petitioners' brief were illegally or wrongfully prevented from voting, Mr. Flood named four men who would have voted against Mr. Clement, but were prevented from voting for the same reasons that all those rejected were excluded from voting.

Mr. Flood, in his brief, charges that the few disgruntled Democrats, in their effort to capture the party offices, entered the election with full knowledge of the rules set up by the county Democratic Executive committee, "in conformity with the laws of the Democratic party and the laws of the State," without making any appeal to the executive committee against the rules so set up. Having failed to take such appeal before the election, says the brief, "both the candidate and petitioners are now stopped from further contest on that ground."

Norfolk Electoral Board Resigns

Norfolk's election scandal, which preceded the August 7th primary, when official ballots were found to have been taken from their proper place, resulted yesterday in the resignation of all members of the city electoral board being accepted by Judge W. H. Hargeant, of the Corporation court. New appointments are expected tomorrow.

At the same time the grand jury in Corporation court was preparing to take up tomorrow any further testimony in the election case. Several hearings have already resulted in Gus Gardner, Norfolk man, being sentenced to six months for voting illegally and in a warrant being issued for S. A. Xippas, of Petersburg, who is charged with political factions employed to tamper with the election. Pennsylvania authorities have not yet permitted him to be brought back here to stand trial.

Sensational developments are said to be pending from the grand jury's session tomorrow. Commonwealth's Attorney Thomas H. Willcox, Jr., has intimated that evidence which he will present tomorrow to the grand jury may result in charges being brought against several prominent Norfolk men.

Mrs. Howard G. Harding

Our community was greatly shocked on last Friday eve to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Howard Harding which took place at her home near Stapleton in Appomattox county. Deceased was in usual health and attending to her household duties when stricken with apoplexy and expired before her husband and two sons could get to the house from a tobacco field not far off. Hoping something could be done for her the doctor was hastily summoned, but on his arrival he found that death had already claimed her as its victim and nothing could be done except to prepare the body for its last resting place.

Had the deceased lived until the 22nd of October she would have been 56 years old. She was a devoted wife and mother and beloved by all who knew her.

On Sunday about noon her body was laid to rest in the family cemetery near the home. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. B. Lavender, "God Will Take Care of You" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" were sung at the home and "Home of the Soul" at the grave.

The acting pall-bearers were: Watson Chick, J. E. Chick, Charlie Chick, Ervin Chick, Jack Glenn and Willie Harding. Honary pall-bearers: Carrington Hudson, Conrad Moore, Wiley Harding, Milton Moore, Royal Harding, Kinneth Moore. The flower bearers were: Verna Harding, Mrs. Effie Cavenaugh, Mrs. W. C. Harding, Mrs. Ed Taylor, Miss Millie LeGrande, Mrs. C. Crawley, Miss Maude Jenkins, Mrs. Etta Glenn, Mrs. Ashby Martin, Miss Nellie Moore, Mesdames. Gibbs Martin, Belle Chick, Claude Chick, Mabel Hankins, Ervin Chick, Robert Thornhill, Harrison Burge, J. A. Stratton, Ray Young, James I. Moore, Misses Louise Southall and Marjorie Chick.

Besides her immediate family she leaves two sisters—Mrs. Otis Gilliam and Mrs. Bernice Young and four brothers—W. C., J. W. and E. C. Chick, of Prospect; and Herbert Chick, of Cumberland; to mourn her loss.

It is hard to give her up, but God in his infinite wisdom knoweth best and may the bereaved ones look to God, who alone can give comfort to the sorrowing hearts and may they pray to Him for strength to say—"Not my will but thine oh Lord be done. D.

Robert Cawthorn Glover

Died at his home in Crewe, Virginia, Thursday morning, Sept. 6, 1923, Robert Cawthorn Glover, age 45 years, after an illness of 9 months. All that medical aid and loving hands could do for him was done. He bore his suffering with patience and christian fortitude, but God in his goodness and tender mercy saw fit to take him to his home above. He was for many years a member of the Baptist church at Evergreen, Va. His marked characteristics were always cheerfulness and a sacrifice of self ever rendering a helping hand to those in need. He was held in high esteem by a host of friends and relatives and our hearts go out in deepest sympathy for his loved ones. But how feeble are words to carry consolation to hearts bereaved if a husband, son or brother no one can fill his place in your hearts and yet you would not have the void filled even if you could. It will be a sacred thought in years to come to the family that he shed radiance in his home as long as he lived. It will be a blessed recollection that he lived to love and be loved by those who will ever so tenderly cherish his sweet memory. Thus after a pure useful and well spent live he has gone to his reward as we firmly believe, to become a corner stone polished after the similitude of a palace in that temple whose maker and builder is God.

Funeral services were held at his home and impressively conducted by Revs. McIntyre Carter, Bain and Ware., "Home of the Soul" was softly and sweetly sung by Mrs. W. A. Rue. Remains were interred in Crewe cemetery—Brotherhood of the Railroad Trainmen taking charge of services there of which he had been a member for 16 years and in employment of the N. & W, for 17 years.

Those surviving are his wife—Maude Estelle Glover of Crewe, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Glover of Evergreen, and two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Staples of Lynchburg, and Mrs. R. A. Burke of Victoria, and three brothers, W. J. Glover of Crewe, G. W. Glover of Evergreen, F. P. Glover of Washington, and sister-in-law, Mrs. S. W. Bryant of Crewe, who was with him from early childhood.

STATE NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Latest Gleanings From All Over the State

THINGS SEEN AND HEARD

Fredericksburg.—The Fredericksburg public schools will begin the 1923-24 session on Monday, September 17, when registration and enrollment of pupils will take place in both the elementary and high schools. All members of the faculty have been elected. A large attendance in both schools is expected.

Danville.—J. R. Washburn, of Leaksville, N. C., was arrested by Henry County officers driving a pair of mules attached to a buggy, in which they found 22 gallons of brandy. Washburn is held in jail at Martinsville and the rig and team have been seized pending forfeiture proceedings under the State liquor act.

Norfolk.—Yesterday inspectors are investigating the source of two threatening letters received by I. Sutton, a Church Street grocer. According to Sutton, he was ordered to leave the neighborhood in the first letter and in the second the lives of his two daughters were threatened. He is at a loss to know the reason for the letters. Sutton is a white man and the neighborhood where his store is located is almost wholly made up of negroes.

Richmond.—More than seventy-five touring parties, on their way South, pass through Richmond daily, according to figures estimated by observers. Many of the tourists are those who have been camping in the various Northern States and in Canada during the summer and are returning home. Others include those who live in the North and are going South for the winter months. A large number of tourists spend a few days in Richmond on their way South.

Covington.—The Princess Furnace Company, Inc., which for many years past operated a blast furnace at Glen Wilton, for the manufacture of pig iron, has been placed in the hands of J. H. Drewry, of Clifton Forge, Va., as receiver. Mr. Drewry was appointed by Judge Henry C. McDowell, of the United States District Court, and the order in the case leaves the handling of the business largely to the judgment of the receiver.

Graham.—Mrs. John A. Bailey of Graham, was instantly killed in Eggleston Mountain, when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband left the dirt road and tumbled down a steep embankment. The car and the machine skidded and fell out of the road. Mrs. Bailey's skull was crushed, and she died within a few minutes after being taken from under the wrecked car. Her husband escaped with a few minor bruises.

Fredericksburg.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the State Firemen's Association, attended by firefighters from practically every community in the State, ended here with drill contest and running reel races in which many companies participated. The Alexandria band won first prize of $100 in the musical contest, while Charlottesville was second. Covington was the first honors in the reel race, capturing the association trumpet, a prize of $100. Luray took second place and a prize of $75. Lexington won the $50 third prize. Orange captured fourth place. The Covington team brought the reel down a 150-yard course, unwound the hose and attached it to plug and nozzle in 34½ seconds. Luray's time was 40 seconds. Hundreds of persons gathered in the city park for the hand contest and other throngs lined the race course.

Winchester.—Frank Oliver, 47, merchant and farmer of Hardesty, Warren County, is in a serious condition from a fractured arm and great loss of blood, while his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell, bride and groom of only a few hours, escaped injury, when an automobile in which they were returning to Hardesty from Front Royal upset at the bottom of a hill. It was said the steering apparatus suddenly locked. All three were pinned under the car, but Mr. Oliver managed by main effort to lift the machine with his feet, and the bride and groom crawled out and then lifted the car sufficiently for Mr. Oliver to get out. While he was returning to Front Royal for assistance he fainted. He was found bleeding, apparently from a hemorrhage, by a passerby and taken to a relative's home, where his condition continues serious.

Lynchburg.—H. H. Harris, president of the Harris-Woodson Candy Company, has been chosen to head the drive here next month for $100,000 for the community chest. He will name the various subchairmen to be associated with him.

Danville.—A sixty-gallon copper still was found in full operation near Barksdale depot, in Halifax county, by a posse of prohibition officers. Two men, giving the names of Mamon and Squires, were taken into custody and later bonded in the sum of $600 for their appearance at Houston.

Hung Jury

The trial of R. O. Garrett at Cumberland resulted in a hung jury and the Commonwealth is getting ready for another trial of the Garrett Brothers on September 20th.

Hopewell.—Further efforts on the part of local business and professional men are being made to build the new road connecting Richmond with this city, which will shorten the distance about 13 miles. The Chamber of Commerce, of this city, recently took the matter up with Richmond and Chesterfield County citizens, who are much interested in the movement. A definite report is expected to be made within the next few days.

Lynchburg.—Notices of contests in the Counties of Buckingham and Appomattox anent the Democratic primary held August 7, in which those counties nominated legislative and county office candidates, present an unusual condition, for the judge who will preside over the two contests will be called upon to hear contests based on grounds diametrically opposed to each other. In one county the contest is being based partly on the claim that the judges of the primary declined to count the instructions given by the Democratic committee of the county, while the other is based, in part, on the claim that the judges carried out the mandate of the county committee.

Blacksburg.—The board of visitors of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute met at the college with all members present, except Hon. Harris Hart, superintendent of Public Instruction, and W. H. Wood, chairman of the State Board of Agriculture. Preceding the meeting of the board, there were meetings of the live-stock sanitary board, crop pest commission and board of control of the state experiment station. The State veterinarian brought several important matters to the attention of the board, and these were acted on. The State entomologist presented his proposed budget, which was approved; the experiment station budget of request for the coming biennium was approved, subject to certain changes to be made later.

Suffolk.—Frank Price, about 60 years old, outweigh and well-known citizen of Suffolk, is reported mortally wounded and Leslie Price, about aged 35, an employee of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., is in serious condition as a result of being shot by E. W. Swope, 40, manager of an icecream corporation, who was also badly hurt in a fight in front of the local post office. The shooting is alleged to have been due to Swope's attentions to Mrs. Virginia Player, 35, Frank Price's daughter. It is charged that Leslie knocked Swope down. Frank Price is alleged to have attacked Swope with a knife, inflicting a wound eight inches in length in his neck after he had been knocked down. According to the police, Frank Price admitted that he cut Swope and shot him in the arm.

Newport News.—It became known that on Saturday afternoon a message which saved a man's life came to Langley Field from Cape Hatteras, N. C., calling for the aid of a physician for Private William E. Grover, who had cut his throat with flying glass when his motorcycle overturned while thirteen minutes an airplane carrying Captain Delmar R. Barksdy, of the medical corps, was on its way to the North Carolina coast. At twelve minutes after 4 o'clock the following message was received: "Man seriously hurt—throat cut—send doctor with plane." This message was authenticated by the signature of Captain Richard H. Ballard, A. S., in command of the detached troops from Langley Field, now establishing a temporary airdrome at Cape Hatteras, N. C., in preparation for the coming bombing maneuvers against battleships.

Danville.—W. I. Williams, said to be a military officer of Winston-Salem, N. C., arrested by Henry County officers about two weeks ago on the charge of impersonating a Virginia officer and with having in his possession a small quantity of liquor, attempted to kill himself by poison at Martinsville. He swallowed a number of bichloride of mercury tablets. He was rushed promptly by a physician, who applied heroic remedies, and he was later taken for observation to a Martinsville hospital. His condition is satisfactory, but it was pointed out that the poison is a slow one and that the effect of the self-administered dose could not yet be foreseen. Williams was in an automobile with members of his family and accompanied by a man who gave the name of Warner. Williams' relatives were sent to their home. Williams placed in jail and the car and Warner was able to give the required bond, but this Williams had been unable to do. Sheriff L. C. Minter was making the rounds of the jail when he found Williams in his cell, evidently an ailing man. The sheriff drew from the prisoner that he had swallowed poison, and Miller acted promptly, calling a physician. It is believed that his plight had preyed upon his mind and that brooding over what was in store for him, together with the fact that he could find no one willing to go bail for him, caused him to try and end his life.

Danville.—Danville legionaires are preparing to make a strong bid for the 1924 convention of the Virginia department of the American Legion, which meets in Fredericksburg this week. Danville will send a full quota of delegates to the convention and they will be headed by Thomas Fox, vice-commander of the Danville Post. All of the posts in the Fifth District are united in supporting Danville to win the convention next year and several prominent citizens will go to Fredericksburg.

The Concentrated Angler.

A gentleman hesitates to bother anybody whose mind is concentrated on his fishing. The expert known by experience one question leads to another, then on to begging, borrowing or buying. The expert knows that tyros are never provided with tackle, bait, or reasonable consideration for others. They expect the whole bootload of anglers to wait on them because they catch no fish.—Louis Heard.

April Luck.

A lucky month for all young people is April. If a girl is being courted for the first time in April, her love affair will end happily. The 15th of the month is particularly lucky for lovers' meetings. Turn a silver coin in your purse before going to the meeting, have something green about you, and be sure not to turn back for anything when you have left the house, and good luck will go with you.

Pride Goeth Before a Fall.

A young society matron was taking her baby for an airing in its buggy. She was fairly strutting down the boulevard, so great was her pride in this first born. Two little girls, playing on the apartment steps, smiled at her as she passed. One of them turned to the other and said, "Now, that's what I'm going to be when I grow up. I'm going to be a maid, so I can take people's babies out for an airing."—Kansas City Star.

Attend to the Cheese.

My son, five, is fond of sewing, and is especially interested in darning and mending. The other day I left the kitchen during the preparation of a meal and when I came back discovered that he had sewed through and through a piece of cheese. He pointed proudly to it, and said: "Mamma! I mended the holes in the cheese!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
